Portfolio description

This portfolio looks to achieve capital growth in excess of inflation, whilst supporting inclusive economic development by investing in more environmentally and socially sustainable business practices. The portfolio will look to do this by investing in a diversified range of funds, which allocate capital to sustainable themes, such as healthcare and social housing, financial inclusion and education, the circular economy and renewable energy. The portfolio is diversified across a range of asset classes with a medium allocation to funds investing in equities (expected to be no greater than 75%) and other risk assets. Target volatility: 5% - 9%

United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

Portfolio pillar mapping

As part of the LGT Wealth Management Sustainable Model Portfolio Service, we have developed four sustainable investment pillars. These pillars encompass investment themes and the related the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDG), which they aim to support. Two of the pillars target social themes and two target environmental themes. This allows the translation of a framework based on a global, wide-reaching social and environmental change into an investable universe of ideas.

Monthly investment update

April brought unprecedented market volatility but also highlighted resilience across global financial markets. President Trump's introduction of wide-reaching tariffs, starting with a baseline 10% on all countries, and higher rates for Asia, initially triggered sharp declines. Equities dropped with global markets shedding $10 trillion and the S&P 500 experiencing one of its worst two-day performances since WWII. Bond and currency markets also reacted, as US Treasury yields spiked and the dollar weakened.

However, the outlook improved as the US administration implemented a 90-day pause on the tariffs (excluding China), calming markets and restoring confidence. This led to a powerful equity rebound with the S&P 500 marking its best single-day gain since 2008 on April 9th, and while volatility remained, markets ended the month on a stronger footing, with the S&P 500 down just 0.7% for the month. Although the IMF revised global growth forecasts down, the market's rapid recovery from early shocks suggests strong underlying investor appetite and adaptability, highlighting areas of resilience that could offer long-term investment potential.
